R-series catalogue (Record)
R1/1-2	Two licences issued by the Board of Excise authorising James White, auctioneer of Dorking, to trade as an auctioneer, 17 Mar 1823 and 28 Jul 1854. James White (c.1795-1872) traded as an auctioneer and estate agent in Dorking High Street from 1817. Sources: census returns of Dorking 1841-1871, National Probate Indexes (Ancestry.co.uk website - accessed May 2013), Surrey History Centre Catalogue. For related records see R 24/1-8 and the records of White and Sons, auctioneers, at Surrey History Centre, K99.
R2	Framed manuscript letter addressed to "Dear Courtenay" and signed by William Ewart Gladstone, the statesman and future prime minister, in which he asks Courtenay to locate some papers on church matters and send a copy to the Rev. J H Newman of Littlemore, Oxford. 18 Sep 1844.
	The Rev J H Newman was John Henry Newman, later to become a Cardinal in the Catholic church. He had been appointed Anglican vicar of St Mary's, Oxford in 1828, the benefice of Littlemore being attached to the parish. The letter was written in the year before Newman converted to Catholicism. A typed note on the frame, [c.1970] records that Courtenay was Gladstone's private secretary and that the letter was found in a book given to Dorking library at an unknown date.
R3	Small hard bound notebook with metal clasps recording the results of shooting contests between the Wotton or 14th Surrey Rifle Volunteers and the Reigate or 5th Surrey Rifle Volunteers, Aug. 1860 – Oct.1861. The meetings were held at Reigate, Dorking and Holmwood.

R6	Double sided page reprinted from the The Surrey Mirror and County Post of 15 Jun 1928 entitled 'The Redhill Gas Company – Amalgamation with the Dorking Undertaking.' A report of an Extraordinary General Meeting held at Redhill in order to change the name of the company to the East Surrey Gas Company and to authorise amalgamation with the Dorking Gas Company.
R7	Annual report and financial statement of the Dorking British School known as the Powell-Corderoy School, Jan-Dec 1914. 20pp.
R8	Small, hard bound account book marked on the front cover with 'T Philps – Book of Sundreys.' 1791-1835. There are detailed entries for each month, the majority referring to items such as wool, lambskins and leather, for example on Dec 13 1799: 'Sold Mr Fisher 62 Buckskins at 10 pt - this comes to cash £31.0.0.' Other entries record amounts spent on groceries and also on items relating to a tailor's business. Details of wages paid are recorded at the back of the book where there are several loose items. T. Philps would appear to be Thomas Philps, fellmonger of Dorking (see mention of him in a lease - Surrey History Centre catalogue, ref K52/1/10). The 1851 census for Dorking records a probable relative, John Philps, trading as a tailor and woolstapler in Dorking High Street
R9/1-11	File containing papers collected by Leslie Capper of Westcott, a member of the Dorking section of the Air Raid Precautions organisation and from 1951, the Civil Defence Corps. 11 items, 1939-1967. R11/1-7	Manuscript entitled "Marches in the 15th Kings Hussars." giving an account of the personal experiences of Edward Latter of Dorking, a Sergeant in the Regiment from the time of his enlistment in 1811 during the Napoleonic wars until 1833. Original ms, 4pp & typescript copy, 3pp. The format resembles a diary but has been written retrospectively. Born in Epsom c.1793 and a labourer by trade, Latter saw service in Portugal, Spain, France and Ireland. The file also includes correspondence between Dorking Museum and the Public Record Office and Ministry of Defence in an attempt to throw any further light on the account, 1967. This was unsuccessful. However, his service record shows that he saw service in Portugal, Spain and France in 1813-1814 where he took part in the battles of Vittoria, Toulouse and Orthes. He also fought at Waterloo in 1815 and "distinguished himself as a brave soldier in action." (Source: Discharge papers at National Archives WO 97/80/33) Dorking parish registers record his burial in Dec 1842 aged 50.
R11/8	Receipted bill for funeral of Eliza Latter, paid by Mr Latter to Thomas Davey of High Street, Dorking, Undertaker; 15 April 1864. Eliza is thought to have been the wife of Edward Latter, a linen draper in Dorking High Street and was probably the sister in law of the soldier Edward Latter. (Source: 1861 census returns for Dorking) (see R11/1)

	Administrative history: Established in 1886 the firm was founded by Frederick Lewis Crow (1866-1952) who took on the tenancy of Shellwood Manor, Leigh with its farm from the Duke of Norfolk and became the Duke's principal tenant. His son also named Frederick Lewis (1886-1979) entered the business in 1905, becoming a partner in Messrs Crow in 1907 and retiring in 1939. The younger Frederick was a founder of Dorking Rotary Club and a founder member of the Dorking branch of the National Farmers Union. He served on Dorking Urban District Council, was a Vice President of the Dorking & Leith Hill District Preservation Society and helped to found Dorking Museum. The company were closely involved in running the last vestiges of Dorking Market.
	Lewis Crow (b.1927) was joined in partnership of the firm by W E Keasley, and during their years with the firm of Crow they merged with Messrs Friend & Nightingall of Westerham, Kent, taking over their long established business. The business of Messrs Slocombe & Co was also amalgamated with that of Messrs Crow & offices were situated at Westerham, Tonbridge, Reigate and Dorking. In September 1954 Mr Lewis Crow took into partnership his son F. Maurice Crow. (1927-1984)
	Under Maurice Crow, the business of Messrs Watkin and Watkin of Bell Street, Reigate established by William Thomas Watkin in 1918, was amalgamated to form Crow, Watkin & Watkin. Maurice Crow was closely involved with local affairs and was a founder member of the Christian Centre in Dorking.
	The company celebrated its centenary in 1986 occupying the same premises at No 16 (previously no 76) South Street. Not long afterwards the Dorking business was taken over by Messrs King and Chasemore of Horsham who traded in Dorking as Osenton Lamden of 275 High Street. The records were deposited at Dorking Museum by Messrs Crow, Watkin and Watkin in 1989. In 2015 Crow and Watkin continue to trade from their offices in Reigate.

R780	Records collected by Norah Simpson of Dorking. Level: Fonds. The collection includes: records of Charles H. Simpson & Co. of Dorking, nurserymen & florists, 1906-1970; records of Dorking secondary schools, 1922-1950; wartime and civil defence records, 1939-1954; programmes and souvenirs of local events and performances, 1931-1985; and miscellaneous and family records, 1919-2014. Extent: 3 boxes and 3 unboxed large ledgers.
	Administrative History: Nora Mary Simpson, (1914-2011) was a life long resident of Dorking. She was the daughter of Charles Harwood Simpson, a nurseryman and florist of Dorking and Constance Lucy Ivery. Her father ran a nursery in London Road, Dorking and later a florist's shop at 268 High Street under the name of Charles H Simpson & Co . No less than five generations on both her mother's and father's side of the family were either gardeners or nurserymen and Nora herself assisted with the running of the florist's business until her retirement. She was connected with the Girl Guide movement all her life and was a Brownie leader for many years. During the war of 1939-1945 she was a Squadron Leader in the Dorking section of the Women's Junior Air Corps. A long term member of the Dorking Local History Group, she was a steward at Dorking Museum from its beginnings, serving on the Museum Committee in the 1980s. She died in 2011. (Sources: Dorking Museum Archive accession register, records from the collection, Dorking parish registers, Dorking census returns of 1901 and 1911.)

R780/1	Records of Charles H. Simpson & Co, Nurserymen & Florists of Dorking, 1906-1970. Level: Sub-fonds. The records comprise order and day books, 1906-1972; cash books, 1912-1962; bills and invoices, 1911-1970; fire prevention records, 1941-1943; and price lists and licences, c.1925-1939. Extent: 2 boxes and 3 unboxed large ledgers.
	Administrative History: The company was founded in London Road, Dorking by Nora Simpson's father, Charles, who took over the business from his maternal grandfather Henry Appleby (d. 1902). The earliest surviving records date from 1906 with a surviving quotation of 1904 from the company's predecessors Appleby and Hammond. A florist's shop was later established at 268 High Street, Dorking, managed for many years by Nora Simpson herself and which continued to trade until the 1970s. The nursery is thought to have been located on the site now occupied by Ashcombe School near the junction of the present Ashcombe Road and London Road. 	Administrative History: St Martin's (Church of England) High School for Girls opened in 1903 in a corrugated iron room in Junction Road. In 1908 the school was moved to Parsonage House in Station Road. The co-educational Dorking County School opened in Ashcombe Road in 1931 to replace both the High School for Girls and Dorking High School for Boys which had originally opened in 1884. A separate Mowbray County Secondary School was built on an adjoining site in Ashcombe Road in 1959 but the two schools later merged in 1975 to form a comprehensive known as the Ashcombe School. The name of Nora Simpson features in several of the speech day programmes and she evidently attended both Dorking High School for Girls, (alternatively referred to as Dorking Girls High School) and following its merger with Dorking High School for Boys in 1931, the new Dorking County School. 	Administrative History: In 1939 the Army Cadet Force, Air Training Corps and Sea Cadets Corps already existed as organisations for boys who were intended for transfer to the Forces when they were old enough. But there were no similar organisations for girls who would also be subject to conscription to war work. Girls and women mostly worked in occupations considered suitable for females. The situation changed with the outbreak of war and women joined the Women's Services and other organisations such as the Land Army, Fire Service etc, or they were conscripted into factories and other bodies involved in war work. Girls who were not old enough to do these jobs wanted to get involved and so went along to meetings of the Air Training Corps, Army Cadet Force or Sea Cadets Corps meetings asking to join. It was not until 1942 that the Minister for Education, Florence Horsburgh, was instructed to set up an organisation to be known as the National Association of Training Corps for Girls.
	Corps and Girls Nautical Training Corps. The two latter organisations specialised in Air and Sea training whilst the Girls Training Corps covered a more generalised programme of training. Local ladies of some standing were recruited as leaders and girls flocked to join. In Dorking Nora Simpson was appointed a Squadron Leader in the Womens' Junior Air Corps. Cadets learnt morse and semaphore, small household repairs like changing a fuse and fitting a tap washer and learnt drill. The Womens' Junior Air Corps followed courses on aircraft recognition, basic aviation and other air related subjects. They were all involved in helping the war effort, doing things like collecting milk bottle tops and going out in groups to gather rose hips and other hedgerow plants which would be used to make vitamin additives for children They also acted as messengers for Air Raid Precautions Wardens and assisted in many other ways depending upon the needs of the locality in which units operated. Membership was considerable and the three Corps were well known and took part in many regional and national events. When the war ended it was felt there was no longer a need for the Corps and R780/3/4	Ration Books. Level: Series. The series comprises government clothing and Ministry of Food ration books issued in the name of Nora Simpson, 1942-1954. Extent: File of 5 items.

	Administrative History: In 1939 less than a third of the food available in the country was produced at home. Enemy ships targeted incoming Allied merchant vessels preventing vital food supplies from reaching the United Kingdom. To ensure fair distribution of supplies the Ministry of Food issued ration books to every person, with families having to register at one shop. Official rationing began on 08 Jan 1940 and continued until 1954 due to the state of the economy as a result of the war and Britain's responsibility to feed those parts of Europe under its control. Rations were distributed by weight, monetary value or points. Clothing rationing came into effect from 01 Jun 1941 and lasted in a gradually reduced format until 1949. Its aim was not only to ensure fair shares but to reduce consumer spending, free up valuable factory space and release workers for vital war industries. Each item of clothing had a points value usually displayed with the price. The more fabric and labour needed to produce a garment, the more points were required. The volumes run for 11 years and record every day crimes of assault, theft and vagrancy with one instance of murder (p.5) and one of manslaughter. (p.50) They also record the duties of the police officers. The sequence of the three volumes runs as follows with the pages of the transcripts in brackets: 12th Nov 1838-02 May 1841 (1-51); 03 May 1841-01 Jun 1845 (52-134); and 02 Jun 1845-03 Apr 1849 (135-209). Pages 210-233 of the transcript contain indexes to the following subjects: names, shopkeepers, public houses and beer shops, owners of beer shops, trades, magistrates, Dorking & surrounds (buildings and places), and other locations.
	Provenance: Originally compiled and kept by Police Officer William Donaldson and transcribed by C A Willeard of Dartford, Kent in 1994. The three separate leather bound books were originally purchased from R B Ede, bookseller of Dorking by a Mr Donaldson (a relative of William Donaldson?). They passed into Mr Willeard's family three generations previously and in 2003 he retained the originals. Transcript deposited by Dorking Local History Group.
	Administrative History: As superintendent, William Donaldson led a small police force in Dorking from 1838-1851. The Surrey Constabulary was not formed until 1851 and although local policing often existed prior to this it is unusual to find such a detailed insight into their work at this date. The force initially consisted of three officers, Superintendent Donaldson, and Police Constables No.1. William Brown and No 2 Jonathan Lewin. They were based in a Station House, at first in South Street near the town's workhouse. William Donaldson later transferred to the Surrey Constabulary when it was formed in 1851. He had postings at several locations in the county but eventually moved to Haslemere where in 1855 he had the dubious distinction of being the first Surrey police officer to be murdered on duty while dealing with a serious disturbance.
